PREFACE.

IT may be proper to inform the Purchaſers of the Catalogue, and the Public in general, That there is no one Article contained in it but was a Part of the Genuine COLLECTION of the late Noble Poſſeſſor, Margaret Cavendiſh, Ducheſs Dowager of Portland. Nothing is foiſted into it from the Cabinets of others; but every Subject here recorded came into her Poſſeſſion, either by Inheritance, the Aſſiſtance of thoſe who were honored with her Friendſhip, or by her own Purchaſe and Induſtry. And how diligent have been her Enquiries into Natural Knowledge and the Polite Arts, as well as ſucceſsful her Endeavours to encreaſe the Stores of them, the following Catalogue will, in a great Meaſure, demonſtrate. In the Articles of Virtu it contains no inconſiderable Part of her moſt Valuable Collection; but in Natural Hiſtory every Subject is inſerted ſhe had with ſo much Pains and Treaſure accumulated. And here it will appear, that all the Three Kingdoms of Nature, the Animal, Vegetable, and Foſſil, were comprehended in her Reſearches. In all of theſe ſhe took infinite Pleaſure and Delight; but in none of them is her Cabinet more richly ſtored than in that durable and beautiful Part of the Firſt, named Conchology. In this Branch of Nature's Works, no Collection in Europe can equal that of her Grace's in Number and Variety. To give ſome Idea of its great Extent, it may be remarked, that the celebrated Linnæus, who had ſtudied the Subject, and methodized the Materials of it, has not deſcribed One Fourth Part of the Objects contained in the Muſeum now offered to the Public. It was indeed in the Intention of the enlightened Poſſeſſor to have had every unknown Species deſcribed and publiſhed to the World; but it pleaſed God to cut ſhort the Deſign, not only by the Death of the ingenious Naturaliſt employed by her for that Purpoſe *; but, in a ſhort Time afterwards, to the great and irreparable Loſs of Science, by her own alſo. Had her Life been continued a few Years longer, it is poſſible that every Subject in this Catalogue would have been properly deſcribed and characteriſed; but in the preſent Mazes of Science, all that could be done by the Compiler was only to give in general the claſſical or popular Names to ſuch Articles as were known to have any, and to leave the great Bulk of Non-deſcripts to the Examination and Determination of the Curious. Some Perſons, perhaps, may object to the Promiſcuous Aſſemblage of the various Subjects here exhibited, and be ready to wiſh that they had been allotted in Order and Method, according to Genus and Species; and it muſt be confeſſed, that ſuch a Proceeding would have proved extremely ſatisfactory to every true Lover of Science. Such would have been highly pleaſed to have ſeen each Article named, and ſtand in its proper Place. But however deſirable ſuch an Attainment might have been to a few Cognoſcenti, it is very certain that the Majority of the World are not Methodiſts. They love Variety more than Order, and would rather purchaſe Twenty different Species of Cones or Turbos in One Lot, than the ſame Number of High Admirals or Wentletraps. Yet to gratify every Palate, Care has been taken, as much as poſſible, to keep the Grand Claſſes, and often the Genera together; at leaſt as far as Reſpect to Size, Rarity, or Beauty, would allow. And in this Diſpoſition, there are very few Subjects but will occur again and again; ſo that almoſt every Perſon deſirous of becoming a Purchaſer, may have an Opportunity of ſupplying his Wants. Whereas, in a methodical Arrangement, it muſt of Neceſſity have frequently happened, either that a Multitude of the ſame Species muſt be ſold together in One Lot, (which very few would chuſe to purchaſe) or each Individual of that Species, muſt be diſpoſed of ſingly, or in Pairs; which would have multiplied the Number of Lots to ſuch a Degree as would extend the Sale to as many Weeks, as it conſiſts at preſent of Days.

It is hoped however, that the Man of Science will not be altogether diſappointed in the preſent Arrangement of the Catalogue; for as much Pains and Care have been taken to affix the proper claſſical, or generally received Names, to as many Articles as the Time and Abilities of the Compiler* would allow; it will be no great Trouble for him to caſt his Eye over each Day's Sale, as it occurs, and he will hardly fail to meet in one or more of them, with the Subjects he deſires. In Order therefore to his more ready Underſtanding the various Articles recorded in the following Catalogue, it remains only to ſubjoin an Explanation of the References and Abbreviations made Uſe of in it.
